Ballast Water Management Course (BWM) - Face-to-Face

Written by Administrator Wednesday, 02 January 2013 03:03 - Last Updated Thursday, 28 December 2023 09:54 Written by Administrator Wednesday, 02 January 2013 03:03 - Last Updated Thursday, 28 December 2023 09:54

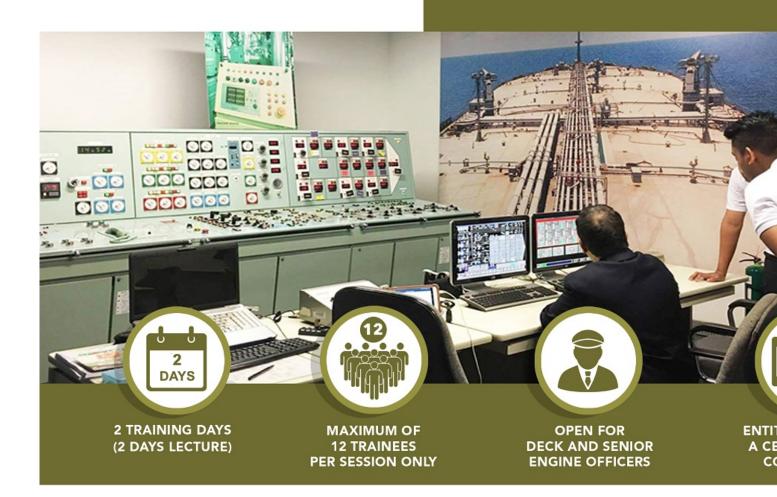

in partnership with

BALLAST WA MANAGEME COURSE

Simulator / Facility

A full mission Crude Oil Tanker Cargo Handling Simulator will be use in this course. Controlled by the sain the actual crude oil loading and discharging operations and ballast water operations on local operations includes pump sound effects under both normal and abnormal conditions.

Reasons to Attend the Course

This course covers will provide the participants both deck and engine management level officers with information on the ballast water system, ballasting and deballasting procedure to control structural street control and management of ballast water and sediments. After completing the course participants should be a sediment of ballast water and sediments.

- demonstrate understanding of the measures and precautions for safe and effective ballast management as per IMO resolutions, guidelines and convention;
- identify the standards for ballast water management and describe BWM onboard ships;
- discuss the operational aspects on ship-board ballast water management;
- describe working principles of every component in the ballast/bilge system and;
- · describe methods of ballast exchange at sea.

Ballast Water Management Course (BWM) - Face-to-Face

Written by Administrator Wednesday, 02 January 2013 03:03 - Last Updated Thursday, 28 December 2023 09:54

*Note Principal CalendarNote Principal Cale